

Hi there*!

I'm Suzanna! Thanks for reaching this page!

My journey with workaway started with Organic Farming (wwoof) in 2011, because I thought there was something very magical about being 100% self-sustainable, and having organically grown food from the land directly to the kitchen.

These days, I workaway to try and learn more about the human condition and different ways to live. In the past, I have done some form of workaway/exchange in Scotland, Australia, Cambodia, Peru, Japan, USA (twice).

I try to keep honest and always pay it forward.

**This slide deck is a resume for workaway engagements.*

Lifestyle:

I drink socially, don't smoke, and I don't do drugs. Not religious.

I can follow any dietary restrictions that you have.

My creature comfort is a cup of hot tea.

Living Condition Expectations:

Ok with most things. Had experienced 4 weeks on a boat in the Amazon with 50 people to 4 toilets, and daily shower with river water.

I can do without a stable wifi, but would need to know in advance. Willing to work longer hours and always ready to learn new skills.

Though I'm here to learn about life (yours), I am also happy being left alone, and don't have to be constantly entertained :)

So... That's my own perspective/motivations..

Hopefully the following slides can give you an idea of what I may be able to help you with!
